 CitizenGO started this petition to Attorney General Merrick Garland - 88-year-old Woman, Survivor of Death Camps, is Facing Unjust U.S. Imprisonment.

Eva Eld, a survivor of a Communist death camp, is in danger of being sentenced to over a decade in an American prison. Her crime? Defending the unborn in a peaceful sit-in.

While Western Europe and the U.S. were celebrating the vast victory of WWII, she and her German-speaking family were torn from their homes by a vengeful Russian regime to the concentration camps filled with tens of thousands of German-speaking people from the Slavic nations. Eva's dark memories as a nine-year-old being carried away in a cattle car to the Gakovo death camp, give her undaunted courage to defend children's lives at the cost of her own. She recalls people standing on the side of the tracks weeping for them but doing nothing to spare their extermination. She is compelled to stand between children and their executioners because "This is what people should have done for us."

Now, the situation is dire for Eva once again. There's only a little time remaining before her sentencing. Eva, soon to be 89, genuinely fears she will perish in prison. We cannot be like the people on the side of the tracks in Eva's early childhood. We must stand in the way of the moving train, but it will take many thousands of us to stop the train Eva has been thrust upon for the second time in her life.

After surviving a death camp as a young girl, dying in a US prison for embodying the American principles of freedom of speech, assembly, and religion is simply unthinkable.

Dear Attorney General Garland,

Eva Eld, the survivor of a Communist death camp and defender of the unborn, now faces the irony of imprisonment in the "land of the free." Her crime? A peaceful sit-in protest.

Echoes of her tragic past resurface, swapping the horrors of Yugoslavian death camps for the bars of a US penitentiary. All because she stood up for young, voiceless lives.

American freedom, the dream that called Eva from post-war Yugoslavia, now rings hollow. Today, her faith and her freedom to peacefully protest are under dire threat.

Eva's case isn't simply about her. It illustrates the injudiciousness of the FACE Act, punishing those who peacefully strive to protect life.

Do not let her last days mirror her past when she was led away to a Communist-exterminated camp. We ask that you act now, defend the Constitution, and defend Eva Eld!

We ask that Eva Eld be released from unjust prosecution. Stop this needless sentence and uphold the right of peaceful protest in the United States.

Kind regards,
