We know the Greens are not who they used to be.

They're no longer all that interested in the environment and saving the trees.

So what are they about?

That's where things get dangerous for Aussie families and farmers.

Because they've been using their under-the-radar power grab to influence policy outcomes Aussies don't want and don't know about.

Here's a few highlights of the way the Greens want to hurt your family, raise your cost of living, and hand over control of the country to disruptive activists.

- Ban cost-effective family cars by banning the sale of petrol and diesel cars by 2030 – that's only a few years away!<sup>3</sup>
- Increase school fees with massive decreases to private and independent school student funding.<sup>4</sup>
- Send your taxes to foreign countries by paying billions in reparations for the damage you've caused through "climate change" and "colonialism".<sup>5</sup>

- Put hard drugs on the streets by decriminalising meth and heroin and other highly dangerous and addictive substances, risking the safety of your kids.<sup>6</sup>
- Taking your hard earned prosperity with an inheritance tax, which will mean your kids won't inherit the family home or farm.<sup>7</sup>
- Let men into women's sport and private spaces by removing any legal protection for biological sex.<sup>8</sup>

These policies are bad for your family and bad for our nation.

And remember: the Greens don't need to win government to implement policies that will hurt your family. They just need to have enough power in the Parliament to force the government of the day to do what they want.

If the polls are correct they could end up in a power sharing arrangement with the Albanese Labor Government.

That means they can cut deals to get one or more of these policies over the line.

That's why it matters that the Greens are not who they used to be.

Because they're not good for our country and not good for your family.
