Translating Amidst Conflicts

Translation has been a key focus of the Society's work since its earliest days. Today, the ongoing Gaza war reminds us of the urgency to complete our revised Hebrew New Testament and the digitisation of our Arabic Bible. Both sides of the conflict need faithful copies of the Scriptures. Thus far our Hebrew New Testament has been typeset and is currently being proofread by members of the Hebrew team. Lord willing, it will be published later this year or early next year. Our Arabic New Testament has been published on our online Bible, and we have digitised the Old Testament up to Ruth.

How to pray for these projects:

- For the Hebrew team as they proofread and finalise the revised New Testament. Pray for accuracy and speed during the checking process, and the subsequent publication (print, audio, and digital).
- For the digitisation of the Arabic Old Testament, and that the digital Scriptures will be a blessing to many Arabic speakers throughout the Middle East.
- For all our translators, revisers, and teams working faithfully in difficult and dangerous circumstances.

The Word of God in Wartime

As war loomed on the horizon in the late 1930s, TBS seized every opportunity for making known the salvation of God. There was an urgency in making the most of the time available to spread the Word of God, with a real sense that the time was limited and the work was great.

From the Diary ... Faithful Bible Reading

One of the most important things a Christian must do is read the Bible. This should not be just a haphazard reading; the child of God must undertake regular, systematic perusal of the Holy Scriptures. In addition, the Christian needs to read all of God's Word. This does not necessarily mean that the Bible should be read in its entirety in a single calendar year, but it does mean that it should all be read thoughtfully and devotionally. There are many Bible reading plans available; we publish a reading plan based on that of Robert Murray M'Cheyne, which is found in our article Bible Word List, in the diary, and in several of our Bibles.

Stealing God's Words?

Christians have begun to discuss the role of Bible publishing organisations and question the use of copyright by Bible publishers. This article discusses different ways one can steal God's words and how copyright can prevent that and protect the Word of God.

Distributing Scriptures in Difficult Times

At the link below, we have two stories about the distribution of God's Word during WWII. We hope these stories will highlight the importance of distributing the Word of God today, despite the circumstances and trials we may face.
