

Ramadan Display Pulled From Texas Public School

Texas patriots just crushed yet another attempt to sneak Islamic religious symbols into our kids' schools—proving once again that when vigilant parents expose the External Infiltration of Islam's Two-Front Strategy, even "cultural committees" can't hide their push to normalize Sharia-lite in the heart of Texas pride on Go Texan Day.

Texas parents just delivered a massive win against the creeping normalization of Islam in every corner of American life. "Ramadan" decor was set up in the lobby of Bunker Hill Elementary in Spring Branch ISD (Houston, TX) by a PTA "Cultural Committee." This is in a school district that does not allow (per board policy) religious symbols to be displayed, yet somehow these decorations were approved.

On Friday in Houston, it was "Go Texan Day," a day where kids across the city celebrate their TX Pride to kick off rodeo season. Parents are often invited to come to the school to watch their kids participate in square dancing and line dancing. Imagine walking into the school for "Go Texan Day," and this is the decor that greets you—instead of Texas pride, families were hit with "Ramadan Mubarak" signs, crescent moons, and stars, overt Islamic religious symbols.

But sharp-eyed parents from Moms for Liberty Harris County flagged it as a blatant violation of the district's religious neutrality policy. The school acted fast, removing the inappropriate decor and restoring fairness to our public education system.

This isn't just a one-off; it's a textbook example of Islam's ruthless Two-Front Strategy to conquer America from within:

The Internal Sharia Fortress — building isolated, cradle-to-grave enclaves that lock Muslims away from Western values and laws.

The External Infiltration — using “radicals with a smile” to worm their way into our institutions, exploiting tolerance and screaming “Islamophobia” to silence opposition and force submission.

Remember, as detailed by RAIR Foundation:

Internally, they’re forging parallel societies with Sharia schools, banks, courts, and more—creating no-go zones where Western influence can’t penetrate.

Externally, they’re infiltrating with polished fronts, lobbying for “inclusion” while pushing their agenda unchecked.

Documents like the Muslim Brotherhood’s 1991 Explanatory Memorandum and 1982 “The Project” lay it all bare: a “Civilization-Jihadist Process” to sabotage Western civilization from the inside—building self-sustaining Islamic structures while cozying up to power centers for cover.

This school display? Pure external infiltration, trying to normalize Islamic symbols in a public space meant for all kids, not one group’s agenda.

But Texas patriots saw through it and shut it down!

Huge praise to Moms for Liberty (Harris County chapter) for their fearless vigilance and unyielding stand, they’re true heroes protecting our kids from this subversive push.

No double standards, no apologies: If religious symbols don’t belong, they get removed. Period.

CAIR’s already whining, but that’s their playbook.

Bunker Hill Elementary Islamophobes. They have no problem for Christmas decor, do they? And @chron com is hiding comments 🤡

This victory shows we're onto their game and fighting back hard.

Texas leads the way in defending our freedoms, our schools, and our future—unapologetic, unbreakable, and committed to a Sharia-free America.

Keep winning, Patriots!
