In a powerful video, Paul Weston destroys the myth that Islam is a “religion of peace,” exposing it as a violent political-military ideology of conquest and domination.

Weston traces Muhammad’s transformation from a failed preacher in Mecca (just 130 followers in 13 years) to a ruthless warlord in Medina, launching campaigns of beheadings, enslavement, and jihad. He highlights over 100 Quranic calls to fight and kill unbelievers, the doctrine of abrogation, and Muhammad’s own words: “I have been made victorious through terror.”

The video reveals the driving force of Islam: promises of paradise and virgins for martyrs, war booty and slaves for fighters, and a world divided into the House of Islam and the House of War. Mass migration (hijra) is used as a tool of conquest.

From the 7th century onward, Islamic expansion left tens of millions dead. Today, this same doctrine fuels terrorism, apostasy laws, grooming gangs, honor killings, and the enslavement of non-Muslims.

Weston warns that Islam is a totalitarian system with no separation of mosque and state.
